NEW HAVEN CUTS ALL LOCAL TRAINS

BROOKLYN TORN BY RIOTS

Policeman Mortally Wounds Boy in Battle With Mob of Carmen

By International News Service.

New York, Aug. 7—Rioting broke out afresh in the strike of union employes of the surface, elevated and subway lines operated by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company this afternoon, and one boy, a passenger on a Canarsie avenue elevated train, was shot and mortally wounded by a policeman.

Max Kauffman, a twelve-year-old schoolboy, was the victim. He was taken to the Lutheran Hospital, where it was said he would die. He was struck in the left side by a bullet during a fight between a mob of strikers and their sympathizers and Police Sergeant Wurzberg on an elevated train bound for New York. The policeman drew his revolver and fired when the mob closed in upon him. The strikers leaped from the train and escaped.

MOB WRECKS A CAR.

Early this afternoon a mob of about 300 drove the crew and police guards from a Dekalb avenue car and wrecked it. Reports of other outbreaks were coming in hourly and Receiver Garrison admitted after receiving reports from the different barns that the service "was badly crippled."

Mayor Hylan took the initiative this afternoon in an attempt to end the strike, which practically brought all transportation lines in Brooklyn to a standstill today. He sent for P. J. Shea, a member of the international executive committee of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, who is in charge of the strike, and Louis Fridiger, chief counsel for the strikers. The men went into conference with the Mayor.

$100,000 LOST LOVE SUIT AGAINST W. A. POWERS

Gonzalo Espejo of New York city has entered suit in the Superior Court for Suffolk County for $100,000 against Walter A. Powers of No. 287 Kent street, Brookline. Espejo alleges that on or about the first day of January, 1918, and on many dates long before that time, Powers alienated the affections of his wife. The Old Colony Trust Company, in which Powers is supposed to have an account, is joined as a defendant. Arthur Berensen of No. 709 Pemberton building is counsel for Espejo.

WALTHAM SELLS ARMY FOOD TO PUBLIC

Mrs. C. A. Bingham and Miss L. E. O'Brien selling army food to Waltham women.

Mrs. Carrie Holmberg of No. 75 Gardner street, Waltham, with her arms full of army canned tomatoes.

The first army canned goods sold in New England were disposed of today at the Stearns School, Waltham, Mayor George R. Beals making the first sale, a half dozen cans of corn and a half dozen cans of tomatoes to Miss Elizabeth M. Connell of No. 67 Hall street.

Despite the heavy rain there was a big crowd, and of the four tons of food put on sale, half was sold within two hours. In fact at the end of the first half hour 2,400 cans of peas and tomatoes alone had been disposed of.

Later in the day the foods were also placed on sale at the old high school in Waltham. The sale is in charge of John Shea, secretary of the Waltham Chamber of Commerce, and City Manager Clarence A. Bingham, members of the 101st Regiment Auxiliary acting as saleswomen.

Purchasers arrived with all sorts of carriers to cart away the food, from handbags of modest size to auto trucks. In all sixteen tons of food have been engaged by Waltham.

These are the prices at Waltham today: Twelve-ounce cans corn beef, 30 cents; 24-ounce cans corn beef, 55 cents; six-pound cans corn beef, $2; six-pound cans roast beef, $2.20; two-pound can corn beef hash, 40 cents; twelve-pound cans bacon, $4.32; tomatoes, per can, 16 cents; corn, per can, 15 cents; peas, per can, 13 cents.

HOLD FOOD TO INCITE STRIKES

Plot by Speculators to Boost Prices Uncovered by Federal Agents

Developments in the nation-wide food crisis, to which officials of country, State and city are giving their entire attention, followed one another in rapid succession today.

The most important of these were:

1—Discovery by the Federal Trade Commission that speculators are withholding vast supplies of foods from the market in the hope that hunger-impelled strikes may bring higher wages with which to purchase these stocks.

2—Criminal investigation started by the Department of Justice in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont into the high prices of foodstuffs and coal.

3—Defiance of threatened prosecution by the government manifested by the packers, who declared that the Department of Justice would get no satisfaction, and that prosecution would do no good in reducing prices.

4—Announcement that food purchased by the city of Boston from the army probably would go on sale Tuesday morning at various distributing points throughout the city.

5—Arrest in Pittsburgh of three officials of the Central Sugar Company, charged with conspiracy to violate the law by asking an unreasonable price for necessities.

6—Statement that President Wilson will recommend to Congress a virtual re-enactment of the wartime Lever law, which calls for heavy fines and imprisonment for violations of its provisions.

7—Attorney-General Palmer announced that he would fight

DANGER OF ICE FAMINE NOW IN CAMBRIDGE

There is grave danger of an ice shortage in Cambridge. Officials of the Fresh Pond Ice Company today conferred with Mayor Quinn regarding the situation. They claim to have but seven weeks' supply on hand and urged the Mayor to request the public to conserve ice as much as possible. They called attention to the fact that they have kept the price down to 60 cents a hundred, but stated that if they had to buy ice on the market the price would be much greater.

GRAND JURY IS GIVEN EVIDENCE ON AUTO BAND

District Attorney Tufts of Middlesex county today called a special session of the Middlesex Grand Jury to present to it facts in connection with the raid on the gang of alleged auto thieves at Billerica. District Attorney Tufts personally went before the grand jurors with newly collected evidence.

Here Are the Places to Buy Army Canned Goods Cheaply

Here are the places selected up to date where the public may buy army canned goods purchased by the city of Boston, probably on Tuesday morning. Additional distributing points will be announced later, and the people are requested to buy only in their own districts:

BACK BAY—Special Aid Society Rooms, No. 377 Boylston street.

BRIGHTON—Brighton Community House, No. 129 Harvard avenue.

DORCHESTER—Municipal Building, Upham's Corner; Codman Square Library basement; St. Ambrose Parish House, Field's Corner.

SOUTH BOSTON—Vacant store, Dorchester avenue and Broadway.

BOSTON COMMON—Cottage of the Women's Committee for Public Service, near the Liberty Cottage.

FREIGHTER HITS NANTASKET BOAT

The new steamer Mary Chilton of the Nantasket Beach line, coming up the harbor from Crow Point today with 560 passengers, was rammed in the main ship channel, off Nix's Mate, by the outbound British freight steamer Kathlamba.

Passengers on the Chilton said that both vessels were proceeding very slowly through the dense fog which blanketed the harbor, and that apparently the lookout on the British freighter did not see the harbor boat until too late to prevent a collision.

Several women in the cabin fainted and a number of passengers had adjusted life preservers, for which there was a general rush, when the officers and crew succeeded in calming the passengers. Although there was no panic, intense excitement and much confusion prevailed, screaming women and shouting men rushing for the life preservers and crowding to the port side.

The Chilton's passengers praised the conduct of her officers and crew during this time, when they moved among the passengers calming their fears and restoring order.

No injuries to persons aboard either vessel were reported.

The Chilton was hit by the freighter's nose between the bow and the paddle wheel on the starboard side.

SERVICE TIED UP BY BIG STRIKE OF SHOPMEN

The New Haven Railroad chopped off its entire suburban passenger train service in and out of Boston today with stunning suddenness, on account of the railroal shopmen's strike.

Enormous inconvenience was caused to tens of thousands of commuters who depend upon these trains for transportation twice daily between their homes and the city, to say nothing of others who make midday trips for shopping and other purposes.

The New Haven offices admitted that the discontinued trains ordinarily handled 50,000 passengers daily.

The trains cut off were the passenger locals running between Boston and Needham, Dedham, Readville, Mattapan, South Braintree, Norwood, Dorchester, Ashmont, Hyde Park, Quincy and intermediate points. In other words, that meant no suburban passenger runs on any of the New Haven divisions operating out of the South Terminal Station.

These trainless points can be reached by trolley. The suburban embargo meant a sudden and heavy overflow of extra traffic upon trolley cars running to those points.

The Boston Elevated Railway Company said that it would take immediate steps to provide extra cars to handle the railroad overflow as quickly as possible.

GIRL SLAYS SPRINGFIELD DOCTOR

Springfield, Aug. 7.—Dr. Henry Zimmerman of No. 721 North street was shot and mortally wounded on Ferry street at 1 o'clock this afternoon by Miss [illegible] Zimmerman. The Zimmermans are not related, as far as the police have been able to ascertain, and no motive was ascribed for the shooting. Dr. Zimmerman was rushed to the hospital, where he died. Miss Zimmerman was placed under arrest.

BOSTON & MAINE TO CUT TRAINS TOMORROW

The Boston & Maine Railroad will maintain its regular service this afternoon, But suburban passengers may look for a "material reduction" in their train service tomorrow.

NEW HAVEN CUTS OFF MANY TRAINS BECAUSE OF SHOPMEN'S STRIKE

THOUSANDS OF NEW ENGLAND WORKMEN GO OUT

The Boston & Maine and Boston & Albany roads made no announcement of any immediate slashing or discontinuance of suburban passenger service. The Boston & Maine, however, was expected to follow suit. Both roads made no bones about emphasizing the seriousness of the shopmen's strike. They said that no road could operate regular schedules without men in the car shops.

SITUAIONS REVERSED.

The situation for New Haven Railroad suburban travelers was just the reverse of that caused by the recent Elevated strike, when trolley passengers to suburban points flocked to big railroad terminals and jammed the suburban trains.

Howard Moulton, publicity agent of the New Haven road, said that freight service would be seriously curtailed. The New Haven began refusing freight today.

Even as this announcement was being made by Mr. Moulton reports were coming in of walk-outs of more and more railroad shopmen at Boston and other New England points.

Officials of the Boston Elevated Railway Company held hurried conferences to plan extra trolley car service to points affected by the New Haven Railroad's discontinuance of suburban train service.

Among the latest cases of men quitting, and the location of their car shops, were the following:

Readville (New Haven System)—3,000.

Concord, N. H. (B. & M.)—800.

Roxbury (New Haven)—300.

Beacon Park, Allston (B. & A.)—125.

West Springfield (B. & A.)—700.

The announcement by Mr. Moulton in regard to slashing suburban passenger service was as follows:

"Passenger train service between Boston and the following suburban points will be discontinued immediately: Needham, Dedham, Readville, Mattapan, South Braintree, Norwood, Dorchester, Ashmont, Hyde Park and Quincy and intermediate points between Boston and these places.

FREIGHT IS CURTAILED.

"The New Haven road will continue to operate as many trains as possible with safety. These suburban trains are being discontinued to relieve men for other train service. The points in this suburban service can be reached by trolley. The public, therefore, will be inconvenienced as little as possible.

"There will be serious curtailment of freight service on the New Haven lines. Freight is being refused by the road. Many freight trains are being immediately removed. This comes at a time, too, when freight business is on the increase."

The New Haven's Boston office also sent out the following comment upon the action of the shopmen:

"At 8 a. m. today employes of the mechanical department of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, engaged in the maintenance of locomotives and cars and inspection of trains at terminals, at practically all points, walked out. No demands have been made upon the officials and no cause given for the withdrawal from service, which we are advised is unauthorized by the executives of the organizations and therefore illegal."

3000 OUT AT READVILLE.

Three thousand employes at the Readville shops of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad quit work at 8 a. m. today. The shopmen included both those in the locomotive and passenger car departments.

Tears streamed down the faces of many of the men who have been employed at the Readville shops for a number of years as they left the shops. They said that, while they did not wish to remain when the other men left, they found it difficult to quit the place of their employment.

The strikers were forced to walk a considerable distance to get to street cars that would take them home. Ordinarily the men ride to and from work on New Haven trains, but there were none running at the time of the walkout.

300 AT ROXBURY YARDS.

Three hundred machinists, repair men and other shop workers quit work at the Roxbury yards of the New Haven road. They formed the day shift, or men working from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Machinists and other skilled shopmen, to the number of 125, quit work at the Beacon park (Allston) yard of the Boston & Albany. Without disorder or demonstration, they left their work in the repair shop and roundhouse.

These men composed one of the three shopmen crews. They began work at 7 a. m. and were scheduled to work until 3 p. m. Similar action by the other two crews was expected.

Eight hundred men, the entire repair and machinists' crew at the Concord (N. H.) shops of the Boston & Maine, struck at 10 o'clock today.

Some of their unions voted last night not to quit until next week at least. But delegates from the striking men at the big Billerica car shops of the Boston & Maine went to Concord today and persuaded the Concord men to change their mind and quit immediately.

100 PER CENT. UNIONIZED.

The Concord car shops are 100 per cent. unionized so the walkout was complete.

The action of the railroad shopmen there may tie up Concord's trolley system. The Concord Electric Railway, which operates in the city and from Concord to Manchester, is owned by the Boston & Maine. The trolley men have voted not to quit, but in view of the railroad men's change it was feared they might eventually strike out of sympathy.

Approximately seven hundred employes in the Boston & Albany railroad shops at West Springfield struck. Officials admitted that the shop was "cleaned out." There is no animosity against the local officials, according to the union men. It is a plain case of waiting since January for a decision at Washington on their wage demands.

With 10 per cent. of their freight cars run off the lines for repairs, and the movement of freight to upper New England on the increase, executives of the Boston & Maine road today were none too optimistic over the situation. The railroad is at the height of one of its busiest seasons.

Most of the freight cars are badly run down, they said. This is attributed to conditions during the war which compelled the roads to operate at a maximum capacity. Cars which in normal times would have been sent to the shops for an overhauling were kept in service until some break made it absolutely necessary to take it off.

Since the signing of the armistice this road's business has been so great that the same war conditions applied. The movement of grain and coal into the New England States is especially heavy at this time. The road's locomotives are in good repair and there are only a few in the shops at this time.

LAST STRIKE IN 1917.

The last strike of the Boston & Maine shopmen was in 1917, and was adjusted in four days. Owing to its short durations and the fact that it came in a time when traffic was comparatively light, officials do not believe they can gauge the present situation from it.

"The effect of the strike on the Boston & Albany will be serious," said an executive of the Boston & Albany, "as of course no railroad can operate without men in the shops."

A dispatch today from New Haven, Ct., said that at 9 a. m. railroad shopmen of the New Haven road in that city, Bridgeport, Waterbury, Danbury, East Hartford, Stamford and Midway, numbering in all 2,000 men, went on strike in accordance with their vote last night.

The men went to work at 7 a. m., and answered the strike call two hours later. Local leaders declared that the strike came off on time at other points in the State.

Predicts Railroad Traffic Will All Be Tied Up in Three Days

Chicago, Aug. 7.—"Railroad traffic will be discontinued within three days."

This prediction, by M. L. Hawver, president of the council directing the strike of railway shopmen in the Middle West, followed today close on the heels of an order issued by R. H. Aishton, regional director of railroads for the Northwest, for railroads in this section to accept freight only "as subject to delay on account of the strike."

With the placing of an embargo on freight by four railways entering this city alarm was felt today over the food situation. It is feared that further delays in food shipments will result in a serious shortage of foodstuffs. Already reports are reaching the city food commission of the boosting of food prices "caused by the delay in shipments."

Railroad officials, however, say the embargo and the delay caused by the strike have not as yet affected food shipments, and point to the arrival in this city yesterday of more than 600 cars of livestock.

Open Food Stations at Once for Week-End Shoppers

The American believes altogether too much time has been spent already in arranging for the distribution by the city of the surplus army food bought for citizens.

It believes that the decision of the women's distributing committee to postpone the sale until next Tuesday unnecessary and ill-advised.

The food was bought to give people immediate relief in some measure from excessively high prices. To hold up the sale until Tuesday defeats the very purpose for which the food was bought.

Nine of the distributing stations are announced as ready. The week-end nears, when most housewives do their heaviest buying. A railroad strike with curtailment of means of reaching the city looms. Now is the time to open the stations and sell the food.

Boston has delayed this relief long enough in comparison with the quick action taken days ago in other metropolitan cities.

Though grateful for the work of the women volunteers, the American urges immediate opening of the food stations, and first come, first served.

Strike Vote Returnable September 8 to Be Taken by the Railroad Clerks

Washington, Aug. 7.—A strike vote, returnable September 8, will be taken by the railroad clerks, warehouse men, station employes and freight handlers, James J. Forrester, head of the union with which these classes of workers are affiliated, announced today.

The ballot, Forrester explained, will be to determine whether the 450,000 men affected "will accept Director-General Hines' outlined proposal to have still another commission to pass upon the wage question, or whether they shall use their economic strength to force direct congressional action on the matter of living wages."

"These demands for wage increases are for essential and immediate relief," Forrester said, "but we are not blind to the fact that wage increases alone can give us the solid foundation which as American citizens we are entitled to. Our organization stands behind the Plumb plan for public ownership. It has been active in giving it financial support. We see in this plan our only real and genuine hope for permanently bettering our condition.

"Congress never fails to take immediate action on the charges accruing to capital, when the railroad earnings are not sufficient to meet the dividend requirements.

"During the war we said that human lives were more precious than money. We said, 'Spend money to save lives.' We have the same condition in industrial strife today. The wage question is a matter of life and death to railroad employes. It is a question of obtaining the actual necessaries of life itself. We must have a living wage.

"If Congress can appropriate money to pay interest at 6 per cent. on railroad bonds when the Liberty Loans were floated at about four and one-half per cent., then Congress can appropriate money to pay living wages to the men who operate the railroads."

MILK JARS AND BULLETS FLY IN FRAY

West Gloucester, Aug. 7.—Warren Bray, sixty, owner of the Riverhead Grocery Company on Essex avenue, was shot with a 45-calibre revolver during a battle with a burglar early today. The burglar escaped. Bray is at the Addison Gilbert Hospital with a bullet wound in his hip. It is said he will recover.

There is no police force in West Gloucester, and this fact held up pursuit of the burglar, one of whose wrists was badly cut by a milk bottle thrown by Bray. The aged storekeeper, who lives over his shop, was awakened by sounds downstairs. He descended, saw the intruder, and threw a milk bottle at him.

The burglar fired, the bullet striking Bray's hip. Undaunted, the shopkeeper, bleeding from his wound, gathered up several other milk bottles and threw them at the burglar, who took to his heels, leaving a trail of blood behind from his wounds caused by the milk bottles.

BAD MEAT AND EGGS GET TWO IN TROUBLE

Penalties against two purveyors of decayed food were assessed by Judge Churchill in Dorchester Court today. James T. Willard of Washington street, Dorchester, was found guilty of offering decayed meat for sale and was fined $15. Herman Weisberg, proprietor of a bakery shop on Blue Hill avenue, Dorchester, was fined $50 for having in his possesion and accepting decayed eggs. Weisberg appealed and was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

LEAVES WIFE AND FOUR CHILDREN DESTITUTE

Mrs. Anna Southwick of No. 13 Tileston street, Everett, has appealed to the Boston American to aid in locating her husband, who disappeared June 30, leaving her and four children destitute. She is ill, and the oldest child, a thirteen-year-old boy, has gone to work to support the family. Her husband worked as a milk driver, is five feet six inches tall, weighs 199 pounds, has light brown hair and blue eyes.

RECOVER TWO BODIES FROM SUNKEN G-2

New London, Aug. 7.—The bodies of Arnold G. Henderson, electrician, of Chester, Ill., and Sidney D. Uhlik, gunner's mate, of Hamilton, Ill., who were drowned by the sinking of the submarine G-2 here a week ago, were recovered near Bartlett's reef today.

WOMEN BATTLE IN MATTAPAN FOOD RIOT

High prices of fish and chickens caused a food riot among Mattapan housewives along Blue Hill avenue today.

The trouble started when one housewife persisted in defying the boycott against some of the stores and went in and bought a chicken. She was attacked by boycotters, one of whom was arrested. A riot call was sent in to Mattapan police station. Captain James E. Walkins rushed eight policemen to the scene. They dispersed the crowd for the time being.

Mattapan women have been conducting a running boycott against stores which, they claimed, charged too high for food. Several hundred women were gathered along Blue Hill avenue at 11:30, most of them determined that no one should purchase at certain stores.

Mrs. Eva Rottenberg of No. 20 West View street, Dorchester, went into a store at No. 1082 Blue Hill avenue and came out with a chicken she had bought.

She was immediately surrounded by an angry throng. It was estimated that, by this time, the avenue jam numbered some 1,200 persons, mainly women.

Mrs. Rottenberg was pushed about. The chicken was snatched from her and was thrown to the sidewalk and stamped upon.

Patrolman Charles C. Taylor shoved his way through the crowd and arrested Mrs. Ida Dunkalis of No. 3 Balsam street, Mattapan, on charges of assaulting Mrs. Rottenberg and of blocking the sidewalk.

The crowd protested against the arrest. Just as excitement was mounting, someone telephoned an alarm of riot to Captain Walkins, who hurried out reinforcements for Taylor.

When the additional officers came in sight the crowd scattered along Blue Hill avenue and into side streets, but not for any great distance.

SPECULATORS IN PLOT TO INCITE FOOD STRIKES

Federal Investigators Uncover Attempt to Hold Out for Higher Prices

profiteering and hoarding with the Lever law, under which his entire forces have been mobilized.

8. Substantial reductions in prices of the army food surplus to be sold to the public, particularly canned vegetables, have been made by the War Department and the new price list is expected to be announced late today.

9. Senator McCormick of Illinois introduced a resolution aimed to reduce taxation by $1,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year 1921, and Senator Myers of Montana introduced a resolution calling for an investigation of the advisibility of restricting the exportation of necessaries of life.

USE FOOD IN STORAGE.

The Federal Trade Commission, in a statement today, expressed the belief that speculators are withholding food. This statement accompanied figures which show that, excluding the government surplus stocks, the supply of foodstuffs held in cold and dry storage on June 1 was 19 per cent. greater than on the same date last year.

"That the law of supply and demand is to be blamed for high prices does not seem to be borne out by these figures," the commission comments.

"On June 1, 1918, the United States stocks were in demand for feeding the armies of the allies, as well as the civilian population. The facts that stocks of many important foods were much larger on June 1, 1919, while prices were as high or higher, means that they are being withheld speculatively for a world demand which is not now here, but which is expected when hunger-impelled strikes secure higher wages with which higher food prices can be paid."

DRIVE STARTS AT CHICAGO.

The first actual steps in the government's prosecution of the "Big Five" packers probably will be taken before the Federal Grand Jury at Chicago, when it convenes three weeks hence, Charles F. Clyne, United States District Attorney at Chicago, stated today at Washington.

While Isidore Kresel of the New York firm of Jerome, Rand & Kresel, will direct the work of drawing up the charges against the packers, Clyne will present them at Chicago. Mr. Clyne today expressed the belief that the opening of the prosecution would be based on charges of conspiracy, and that these might lead up to a series of others, involving violations of both the Sherman anti-trust act and of the food control act.

Clyne said that on his return to Chicago, practically all of his time, with that of his twenty assistant attorneys, would be devoted to preparing for the case. If necessary, he stated, he would secure additional assistants.

NEW YORK POOR SUFFER.

The breaking up of many homes, suffering among thousands of the city's poor, and even death, have followed in the wake of mounting prices in New York city, it was stated at the office of Commissioner of Charities Bird S. Coler today in New York.

There has been a sharp increase in the number of applications for financial aid, and the department has been forced to increase its allowance to many families that have been on the charity list for some time, to save them from starvation.

The most marked result is in the daily increase of the number of commitments of children to institutions. Parents of large families, unable to pay increased rents and buy food for many mouths at the same time, are begging the city authorities to take some of their children to save them from death by starvation.

Mothers are taking little boys and girls to the borough offices daily, asking for temporary commitments, in the hope that there will soon be some relief, and that they will be able to collect their families together again.

Recent increase in the price of milk in New York has worked great hardship. City authorities say that the increase in milk prices and food prices undoubtedly has been a factor in the deaths of many children from malnutrition.

The food purchased by the city is ready and waiting at the army stores, and if it is decided that the public desires more, additional orders will be put in.

ALL CANNED FOOD.

The food is all canned, including the bacon, nine-tenths of the entire purchase being vegetables and the remainder meats. The cash and carry system will be used, all purchasers being required to take away their purchases.

According to members of the women's committee, there is a big demand for the canned stuff, and several more carloads can easily be disposed of.

The first order by the city includes the following: Four hundred and forty-two cases of two dozen cans each; tomatoes of a different brand, two cases of six cans each, each can holding six pounds, nine ounces; corn, 359 cases of two dozen cans each; peas, 393 cases of two dozen cans each; bacon, 110 cans of 12 pounds each; corned beef, No. 1, five cases of 48 cans each, 12 ounces to a can; corned beef, No. 2, 33 cases of 30 cans, 24 ounces to a can; roast beef, six cases of 12 cans each, six pounds to a can; hash, one case of 24 cans, two pounds to a can; bacon, in strips, 70 cans of 12 pounds each.

CITY TRUCKS AVAILABLE.

In order to find a way of overcoming the delay and if possible to find a means of having the food placed on sale as soon as possible a Boston American man, who took up the matter with Chairman James B. Shea of the Boston Park and Recreation Department, was told by Mr. Shea that the latter would be willing to place a three-ton truck and a two-ton truck at the disposal of the women's committee for public service to convey the food from the South Boston army supply stores to the stations throughout the city.

N. E. PROBE ORDERED.

United States District Attorney Boynton today received orders from the Attorney General at Washington to begin immediately a criminal investigation into the high cost of foodstuffs and coal in Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire. The investigation will be conducted under the supervision of Chief George E. Kelleher of the Department of Justice, from Boston, Burlington and Concord. District Attorney Boynton will have as his assistants, Daniel J. Shea and Lewis E. Goldberg, in the prosecution of profiteers, he stated.

NANTASKET STEAMER IN HARBOR CRASH

A long stretch of the starboard guard-rail on the Chilton was ripped away. The paddlebox was badly damaged. Edwin C. Briggs, assistant to the manager of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company, who was on the Chilton, said that the damage would run to between $15,000 and $20,000.

The vessels parted after the collision. The Chilton—her motive power being undamaged—proceeded to her berth at Rowe's Wharf under her own power and discharged her passengers.

Captain Alexander Rathbun of the Chilton said that his vessel was on its proper course and that the Kathlamba tried to cut across the Chilton's bow.

Mr. Briggs said:

"I was in the purser's room, looking ahead. All of a sudden the freighter loomed up ahead. The Chilton's bell rang the signal to back. Then the Chilton was hit. I ran on deck and assisted in calming the passengers."

STEALING OF AUTOS INCREASES AS THIEVES GROW BOLDER

SYNDICATE GETS OVER SCARE

Police Records Show That a Large Number of Cars Are Reported Missing

List of Autos Stolen in Boston During Two Months

Comparison of auto thefts in Boston the last two months:

	Stolen.	Recovered.
June, 1918	69	48
June, 1919	81	37
July, 1918	48	36
July, 1919	63	20
Totals	261	141

Automobile thefts, which fell off to some extent following the conviction of Herman L. Barney for the killing of Patrolman Deininger, said to have been caused by the fear of an expose of a gigantic auto-stealing syndicate operating in Greater Boston, are again on the increase.

Barney was convicted in the latter part of June. The next month, July, eighteen less were stolen than in June, the figures being sixty-three for July and eighty-one for June. Of these 144 cars stolen, fifty-seven were recovered by the police due mostly to the efforts of Patrolman Timothy Sheehan and Albert Carnes, of Captain King's auto squad at headquarters.

INCREASE THIS YEAR.

Last year in June, sixty-nine cars were stolen on Boston streets, twelve less than in June this year and in July, 1918, forty-eight were stolen, fifteen less than last month.

Reports from out-of-town cities and towns, however, show that the business of auto thievery is being carried on on a larger scale than ever before. According to the Boston police, the "syndicate" seems to have discovered that with smaller police forces outside of the city, the thieves have a better chance of getting away with autos left standing on the streets.

A great many of these out-of-town thefts are reported to the Boston police and many cars have been recovered in Boston and turned over to owners in other cities and towns.

7 STOLEN IN ONE NIGHT.

Since the first of August, however, in Boston the thefts have been heavier than usual. Last Sunday night, seven cars were reported stolen from Boston streets. The police attribute this increase to the fact that the "syndicate" are beginning to lose their fear of an expose.

One of the reasons given by the police for a possible future falling off in the thefts of cars is the operation of a new law, passed by the Legislature, making it prima facie evidence to have possession of a car on which the numbers have changed.

This, the police say, will cause many of the auto thieves to think twice before stealing a car standing temptingly near the curbing.

PFAFF SENT TO PRISON.

Albert L. Pfaff, who was found guilty of the larceny of automobiles, was today sentenced by Judge Irwin in the Superior Criminal Court to the State prison for from two and a half to five years.

Pfaff was the lessee of a garage in Chelsea where Police Patrolman Deininger was fatally shot, and for whose death Barney was convicted.

At the trial of Barney, Pfaff, who had been summoned as a witness by the Commonwealth, failed to appear and was defaulted. No action was taken by the court because Pfaff left the Commonwealth to avoid testifying against Barney.

GIRL SWIMMERS IN FINE SHAPE FOR RACE CLASSIC

Miss Alice Eldredge of Charlestown, who is regarded in swimming circles as a second Annette Kellermann and who will be one of the high divers at the exhibition in connection with the Boston American's annual swimming contest for the girls' championship of New England, Saturday, August 30.

Attention, swimming girls!

The date of the Boston American's annual swimming match for the Girls' Championship of New England is fixed for Saturday afternoon, August 30, in the Charles River Basin.

Boston and New England girls who have been eagerly waiting for the announcement of the actual date may now send in their entries.

Send in your entry early. Do not wait until the last moment.

IS SWIMMING CLASSIC.

The Boston American's swimming contest has become the blue ribbon annual swimming event. The race is for amateur girls' championship of New England and is open to all.

Athletic instructors, doctors and swimming experts declare that the Charles River basin is an ideal place for a race. The course is one and one-half miles and 200 feet. The esplanade, aptly termed the "poor man's paradise," will accommodate thousands of people who may have an unobstructed view of the entire race without charge.

The purpose of the Boston American in conducting a swimming match each year is to arouse interest in aquatic sports and attract the attention of people in all sections of the country to the fact that the Charles River Basin is the most beautiful spot of its kind in the world.

The race is an attraction that appeals to every man, woman and child. It is held on a most beautiful river, which the State and city have spent millions on to develop. There is a stout iron railing running along the esplanade to guard against accidents. Up and down the river this river wall affords an opportunity for everybody to witness the race in safety.

"PINKY" IN PINK OF SHAPE.

Last year's race was won by Miss Esther Miron of Webster, known in swimming circles as "Pinky," and she is anxious to carry off the honors this year. She is swimming daily in a lake near her home and sends word that it pays to take practice swims. In this statement she is joined by the swimming girls at Tenean Beach, Dorchester, who insist that one of their number will outdistance Miss Miron and smash her record of last year. Tenean Beach girls won four prizes in the big swim several years ago.

Aside from the main events, there will be a number of new and novel features pulled off to entertain the throngs while the main event is under way. Arrangements have been made by the Swimming Editor to have a number of high divers give exhibitions in water sports from the rafts of the Union Boat Club, the starting point of the race.

Among the high divers will be Miss Alice Eldredge of Charlestown. She is regarded in swimming circles as a second Annette Kellermann when it comes to natatorial skill. Her ability in aquatic sports has earned for her an enviable reputation among swimming girls.

SHOULD ENTER NOW.

Maffitt Flaherty and other members of the Revere Beach Life Saving Corps will be on hand to render assistance in case of accidents. These men deserve great praise for the work they did at previous races.

Swimming girls are cordially invited to take part in the coming race. All they have to do is to write their name, age and address on the entry blank on this page, and mail it to the Swimming Editor, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston, Mass. Get busy. Don't hesitate. Do it now!

GOLD MEDAL GIVEN PENN THE FLORIST

A gold medal, the highest award at the annual Summer exhibition of the North Shore Horticultural Society, held yesterday and today at Horticultural Hall, Manchester-by-the-Sea, has been awarded by the judges to Penn, the florist, of Tremont street. The prize was for a dinner table decoration for eight covers. There were nine competitors.

The decoration, designed and executed by John Eisemann, artist, designer and decorator for Penn, consisted of delphinium, orphelia roses and Irish fire flame. This was the first time that the firm competed at the North Shore exhibition, in which many members of the North Shore society set are deeply interested. The firm has won many prizes at various other exhibitions held locally and throughout the State. Other awards offered to amateurs and private gardeners at the exhibition, consisted of silver and bronze medals and cash.

WHITE MEN QUIT AS NEGROES BEGIN WORK

Chicago, Aug. 7.—With the return to work today of more than 10,000 negro employes at the stock yards, the first negroes to be employed at the yards since the start of the race riots here, 150 white men employed in the machine shops of Swift & Co. deserted the shops, refusing to work with the negroes.

The negroes were taken to the stock yards under a guard of 1,000 armed troops and hundred of police and special deputies. John Kikulski, connected with the Meat Cutters' Union, declared, "The union is not to blame for anything that happens now."

FISH STRIKERS CONFER WITH SKEFFINGTON

Federal Commissioner Insists Tieup Must Be Ended Soon by Agreement

The striking fishermen of Boston were today asked to submit their demands to an arbitration committee by Commissioner Henry J. Skeffington of the Federal Labor and Conciliation Commission, before whom a hearing was held in the Federal building. The commissioner asked the fishermen to select a committee to meet with a similar one from the fish companies, and said he would act as counsellor in assisting both committees to reach a decision.

Some leaders of the Fishermen's Union favor having all the negotiations public and not handled privately, as suggested in Commissioner Skeffington's plan. In the event the secret arbitration board is decided upon, they insist that the fishermen's delegates be given explicit instructions before hand.

The sale of fish on the docks instead of through the so-called "big four" of Boston's fishing industry, was proposed as a means of meeting the strikers' demands for higher wages and still not increasing the price to the consumer, by Mr. Brown of the union at today's hearing. The "big four" are: The Gordon Pew Fishing Company, the Boston Pier Fishing Company, the Bay State Fishery Company and the firm of Baker, Boies & Watson.

Indications are that at least two of the fish companies will make satisfactory adjustments with their striking employes, as the result of today's conferences with Skeffington.

At a mass meeting of fishermen, masters and others interested in the business, it was decided to have each element in the strike represented by from one to five delegates at these conferences, which started at 2 o'clock this afternoon in a room in the Federal Building.

Commissioner Skeffington has put the situation up to the strikers and employers as well. He said:

"There is no reason why disputes of this nature cannot be adjusted, especially where the public is suffering. We have gone along now as far as the public will allow us to go. The public needs fish. The public has a right to say to all of us, 'You must be reasonable.' You must get together and keep together until this matter is settled. We have had enough of this dispute business.'"

WIFE DEFENDS HUSBAND HELD AS BIGAMIST

Mrs. Herman Steimloski, Alleged to Be 'No. 3' on List of Braintree Man, Denies Charge

Although Herman Steimloski of [illegible] avenue, Braintree, is charged with bigamy, his present wife, alleged to be "No. 3" in his list doesn't believe it, and is conducting a fight for his freedom. The husband was arraigned before Judge Albert E. Avery of the Quincy District Court today, and his hearing set for next Thursday.

Steimloski was arrested by State Detective [illegible] and Chief of Police Gallivan of Braintree. These officials who have been working on the case for some time say Steimloski was married first in 1893, and his wife bore him four children. In 1911, it is charged, he married Miss Nellie Evans of Enfield, N. H., and three children were born of this union. In January of this year he was married to Miss Jenny Barton of Manchester, England, whom he met on one of his trips to that city while a steward on a merchant liner.

The third wife who is of a distinct English type has employed counsel to defend her husband, and is devoting all her own time to clearing his name. She claims to have proof that wife No. 1 is dead, and her attorney is attempting to secure evidence that wife No. 2 secured a divorce, as is claimed by Steimloski.

"I don't believe the charge against my husband is true," said the little English woman today, "but even if it should be, I would wait for him as long as necessary—twenty years if need be."

A sister of the accused man his wife were in the courtroom when Steimloski was arraigned. The sister claims to have a letter from wife No. 2 substantiating the man's assertion that she divorced him eighteen months ago.

Two children, one by wife No. 1 and the other by No. 2 are living at the Steimloski house. The other five, say the police, are charges in State institutions in various parts of Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

Continuance of the hearing was asked by the police in order to gather more evidence. Steimloski's bond was fixed at $2,000.

HYDE PARK GARBAGE DISPOSAL PROTESTED

Residents of Hyde Park have protested to the Sanitary Department of the City of Boston and to the Board of Health over conditions that exist in that district relative to the disposal of garbage from the homes, stores and hospitals. For the past two weeks, it is said, garbage has not been collected regularly and it has become necessary for housekeepers to dispose of their garbage by burying or burning it, and one of the hospitals in the district advertised to have it carted away from the premises.

WOMEN IN FOOD BOYCOTT ON PROBATION

Picketing of Profiteers' Shops Will Continue, Say Dorchester Housewives

Two leaders of the housewives' food boycott in the Mt. Bowdoin section of Dorchester were placed on six months' probation after a hearing before Judge Churchill today. The women are Mrs. Dora Delevitch, twenty-four, of No. 129 [illegible] street, and Mrs. Rachel Paris, twenty-seven, of No. 26 Browning avenue. They were charged with sauntering and loitering.

At an open air mass meeting on the night of July 26 women of this district, where a large number of Jewish families live, decided to picket fish and poultry shops in Dorchester where it was claimed exorbitant prices were charged. The women have kept up the boycott and patrol the sidewalk, urging customers not to buy from shops on the blacklist. Mrs. Delavitch, who had a large share in the organization of the movement, and Mrs. Paris were picketing shops on Erie street at the time of their arrest.

Judge Churchill today fixed fines for each of them at $20, which were suspended until February 20, 1920.

Women of the Mt. Bowdoin district said today that regardless of the court's action, the picketing will continue.

TOOK SIX MEN TO EVICT ONE WOMAN

Mrs. Rahpaelson Says She Couldn't Find Another Flat in Dorchester

Apartments in Dorchester are so scarce that Mrs. Ida Raphaelson claimed she was unable to find a place to move to when the landlord notified her to vacate the one in which she had been living at No. 20 Michigan avenue. The combined strength of six husky officers of the law was necessary to eject her.

Mrs. Raphaelson was in Judge Churchill's court today on a charge of assault and battery on Constable James W. Gilmore. The constable went to the woman's home to force her to give up the apartment. Mrs. Raphaelson was in no mood for leaving, and, according to the constable, attacked him physically after a verbal parley. A riot call was sent to the Dorchester police, and five patrolmen from Station No. 19, Mattapan, responded. They all admit that Mrs. Raphaelson gave them a pretty stiff struggle before she was finally landed in the station.

Her case was continued to August 14.

Speed—and the price of Meat

Forty-eight hours after cattle are purchased by Swift & Company they are hanging up as meat; within two weeks the fresh meat has been sold.

This speed means money in the pocket of the one who raises the live stock and of the one who eats the meat. It means a rapid "turnover" of capital and investment—making possible the transaction of daily business on a narrower margin of profit.

Speed permits Swift & Company to do a successful business on a profit of a fraction of a cent per pound.

Such speed, with its rapid turnover and smaller profits would be impossible without the efficient organization and wide scope of Swift & Company, the results of fifty years' experience in handling meat.

Do you believe that government interference with the complicated and efficient machinery of the packing industry can be of any benefit? Experience with government regulation of railroads and telephone and telegraph might suggest an answer.

AMNESIA VICTIM FOUND SITTING IN THE RAIN

Miss Harriet Turner, forty-six years old, a Southerner of good family and a singer of some prominence, was found sitting under a tree against a big bowlder on the Boston College grounds near the Newton line, early today. She was apparently a victim of amnesia. When found she was in a weakened condition and had undoubtedly been exposed to the rain all night.

Attention of people passing by was attracted to the woman, owing to her dazed condition. After considerable difficulty Patrolman Duffy of the Brighton station learned her name after she had been removed to the station. Further than that she could tell nothing of herself or where she had been for the past day or two. Sergeant Muldoon ordered her to the City Hospital for treatment.

For the past few weeks Miss Turner had been residing with a Miss Anderson of No. 102 Charles street. Yesterday Miss Anderson received a letter from Miss Turner, mailed from the North Postal Station, in which it was stated that she was going away.

Miss Anderson says that the woman has been in ill health for some time and was in a very nervous condition. The woman has a sister, Mrs. Charles Davis.

Croker, If Younger, Would Fight for Irish Cause

By International News Service.

Dublin, Aug. 7.—Richard Croker, former Tammany boss of New York city, who will return to the United States in November, declared today that if he were younger he would jump into Irish politics and work for home rule.

"Ireland ought to have home rule," said he. "She is a distinct nation with a different people, and why shouldn't they govern themselves? England is making a mistake, I think, but then England never gives up anything. I take no part in Irish politics myself, however."

Mr. Croker said he had no opinions on American politics, but was willing to talk about his racing plans. He admitted that litigation had been started by members of his family in New York over money matters, but said that no moves would be made in the courts until after his arrival.

U. S. TO DEMAND THAT JAPAN BE FRANK

Wilson's Shantung Statement Shows Up Attempt at Double Dealing

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The Shantung settlement of the peace treaty will become a subject of at least diplomatic exchanges between the United States and Japan.

Officialdom today was seriously concerned over the very evident attempt on the part of the Japanese government to make any surrender of control on the peninsula contingent upon acceptance of the 1915 agreement between Japan and China. That President Wilson realized the significance of this move was indicated by his statement, issued last night, insisting that the agreement reached in Paris was in every way independent of the understanding between Japan and China.

It was stated in official circles that President Wilson was ready, should he deem it necessary, to issue a complete statement of everything that transpired when the Shantung agreement was reached by the "Big Four."

As a result of what is alleged to be attempted double dealing on the part of the Japanese there was growing in Washington today, even among Senators who support the President and the peace treaty, a feeling that unless Japan shall [illegible] place in writing and make public to all the world her actual promises in connection with Shantung, the United States Senate will have to record its opposition to all of the Shantung settlement. This already has been made plain to President Wilson.

Administration officials said today that in view of the open difference of opinion between the President and Viscount Uchida, the Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, regarding the influence behind the Shantung agreement carried in the peace treaty, the President may ask Japan to take a position along the lines of the absolute promises made in Paris.

ARRIVAL OF ITALIAN DREADNOUGHT DELAYED

The Italian dreadnought Count di Cavour will not arrive at Boston until the 14th or 15th of August, according to the latest report received by the Mayor's reception committee. This is contrary to the original report which said it was due in Boston the 10th. The navy yard and the First Naval District have received orders to extend a welcome to the dreadnought.

MRS. REDMOND MAY RULE OVER NEWPORT SOCIETY

Mrs. Henry S. Redmond of New York, who may reign at Newport as the wife of Stuyvesant Fish.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 7.—Is Newport society, which has been worrying along without a reigning "first lady" for some time, about to come under the sway of Mrs. Henry S. Redmond of New York?

The question is agitating the Summer colony, from drawing-room to the servants' hall, following rumors that the banker's widow is to marry Stuyvesant Fish in the near future.

Her position as the wife of the New York clubman would make her quite the strongest candidate for the social crown. Mrs. Redmond is a woman of charm, a hostess of distinction and quite able to make her influence paramount.

If Banker Redmond's dashing widow becomes the social leader she will step to a throne which has been vacant since the flight of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, who resigned jointly for so long.

Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Oelrichs disgustedly left Rhode Island's blue ribbon colony to its fate when it became evident that the Prince of Wales was not to visit Newport.

For months these and other hostesses had been planning lavish entertainment for the royal stripling and many a social campaign revolved about his coming.

The abdication of the social dictators left nobody anxious or able to take their positions. Several prominent New York women have been "mentioned," as the politicians say.

But, until Mrs. Redmond's rumored marriage to Mr. Fish became the topic of polite conversation, no woman capable of ruling this troublesome little social kingdom had appeared.

The engagement of Miss Ruth Hannan of Lynn and Nahant to Lieutenant John C. Coughlin of Augusta, Me., was announced at a tea given in honor of Miss Hannan by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Hannan, at their Summer home at Nahant. Lieutenant Coughlin, who is now connected with a law office in Boston, is a graduate of Yale, 1912, and Harvard Law School, class of 1915. He served with the 76th Division and was later transferred to the 1st Division. He was wounded in the fighting in the Argonne and was cited for his bravery. Miss Hannan is a graduate of Smith College, class of 1915.

Week-end guests continue to flock to Magnolia during the heat of the summer, coming from cities far and near to enjoy for a few short days the refreshing breezes which blow over the crest of Magnolia Point. McCadden, Jr., of New York; Mr. and Mrs. V. A. B. [illegible] of Saratoga; Mr. and Mrs. J. [illegible] and daughter, Miss Helen [illegible] of [illegible], N. Y.; H. A. Perry, Jr., and James R. BURRILL OPENS WAR ON LOAN SHARKS

Boston loan sharks are engaged in a conspiracy to get discharged service men into a financial trap and extort part of their $100 war bonuses from them.

This was the charge made today by State Treasurer Charles L. Burrill. Mr. Burrill declared war upon the loan sharks and said he had the assistance of the army officials in his crusade. The brazen methods of the loan agencies are responsible for the drive against them. Secretary Burrill has been receiving letters demanding that the bonuses of individual soldiers be sent to such agencies which have claims, sometimes of doubtful merit, against the men.

Soldiers are made to pay high for the temporary "accommodation" afforded by the loan sharks, it is suspected. Exorbitant rates of interest are camouflaged to circumvent the law, and many discharged service men will get little if any of the $100 voted them by the State.

"I shall in no instance turn over a man's check to a loan agency," declared Secretary Burrill. "I shall do everything that I can to bring these profiteers to justice if I find they have gone outside the law.

"Meantime, I urge all ex-soldiers and sailors to keep out of the clutches of these gentry. Temporary financial assistance may be obtained by other methods.

"Men who give these pirates mortgages on the bonus which the State voted them do themselves a grave injustice."

There are about 200,000 ex-service men entitled to the bonus, and about $20,000,000 will be paid out. This tempting sum, according to the army men, has proven too much for the loan sharks, who entice boys who are "broke" to walk into their "parlors" and be swindled.

"NO QUORUM" FORCES HOUSE TO ADJOURN

Washington, Aug. 7.—Absence of a quorum forced an adjournment of the House this afternoon before Floor Leader Mondell could offer a resolution providing for a joint session of Congress tomorrow to hear President Wilson. The point of no quorum was raised by Representative Nolan of California when Representative Blanton of Texas asked permission to address the House. House leaders immediately dispatched telegrams to all absentees asking them to rush here so a quorum might be present tomorrow.

How Old Are You By Your Hair?

You may be thirty in years, but if you are bald-headed, gray, or your hair is dry, brittle, scraggly and ugly-looking, people will surely take you to be many years older.

When your hair becomes faded, dry, streaked and scraggly, when it falls out badly and new hair cannot grow, the roots should be immediately vitalized and properly nourished. To do this quickly, safely and at little expense, there is nothing so effective as Parisian sage (liquid form), which you can get at all good drug and toilet counters.

It's guaranteed to abolish dandruff—stop scalp itch and falling hair and promote a new growth or money refunded. It's in great demand by discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft, lustrous, easy to arrange attractively and appear heavier than it really is.

A massage with Parisian sage is a real delight—easy to use, not sticky or greasy, and delicately perfumed—an antiseptic liquid, free from dangerous ingredients and guaranteed not to color the hair or scalp. If you want good looking hair and plenty of it by all means use Parisian sage—a little attention now insures beautiful hair for years to come.—Advertisement.

WOMAN EVADES POLICEMAN AT GRIM COST

Young Widow Ends Her Life as Officer Leaps to Snatch Gun

New York, Aug. 7.—"There's a young woman in my office who has a revolver and says she is going to kill herself. Will you please hurry there and stop her?"

A young man, so excited he scarcely could speak, dashed up to Patrolman Thomas Carmody with this information as Carmody was regulating traffic at Forty-second street and Madison avenue.

The two started on a run for the Briarcliff Table Water Association office, at No. 402 Madison avenue, where the young man said he was employed as a salesman. When they reached the building he exclaimed:

"You go up. I'll stay down here. If she sees me she will pull the trigger."

Carmody, on reaching the fourth floor, found that the office in which the young woman was waiting was locked. He got a pass key and entered.

Seated at a desk, her features hardly discernible, sat a young woman with a revolver pressed to her right temple.

For a moment they stared at each other. Then Carmody, speaking cordially, tried to inch near her. She leaped from her chair, ran toward the window and cried that she would kill herself.

Just as Carmody sprang to seize her she pulled the trigger and sent a bullet into her head.

The victim of the tragedy was Mrs. Sybil Bobitt, about thirty-five years old, a young widow from Memphis, Tenn. She left a note on the desk in the office which said:

"I want to be cremated. Don't tell my sister, who is all I have."

Then followed the name, "Mrs. E. H. Foster, Colfax avenue, Denver," who the police suppose is the sister.

The young man, who waited downstairs and who informed the policeman of the impending tragedy, said he was Frank H. Goddard of No. 86 Marble Hill, Bronx.

TWO GENERALS BLAMED FOR ITALIAN DEFEAT

Rome, Aug. 7.—General Cadorna, former chief of staff of the Italian army, and General Porro, are held responsible for the retreat of the Italian army before the Austro-German offensive in 1918. The report of the investigators was made public today.

Socialist propaganda was only secondary in weakening the defensive strength of the Italian troops, the probers found. The chief cause was said to be vain frontal attacks ordered by General Cadorna, carried out with heavy losses, and brutal disciplinary methods that destroyed the men's morale.

SHOE MEN SULK AT FEDERAL EXPOSE

Achilles, the Grecian warrior, sulking in his tent before the walls of Troy, had nothing on the Boston shoe and leather trade at present writing.

The shoe trade, beginning with the very tanners, has been severely scored for profiteering by the Federal Trade Commission.

The shoe and leather men, withdrawing into a tent of silence, are sulking over the lambasting given them by the Federal Trade Commission. They have nothing to say, so far as any general denial, or even explanation, goes.

Out of more than a dozen big wholesalers and tanners, who were visited by an American reporter, only one, Charles H. Jones of the Commonwealth Shoe and Leather Company, could be induced to say anything.

This silence on the part of the others was all the more notable in the face of the commission's report, which read in part:

"That the larger packers control the hide supply, have taken excessive profits and passed on the increased costs to subsequent steps in manufacture and distribution; that the tanner has taken exceptional profits; that unusual margins have been taken by the shoe manufacturer, and that the prices charged by the retailer are not justifiable, the result being that each factor in the industry has added to the burden he had to bear before passing it on to the next."

Mr. Jones declared that the findings of the commission were "unfair," because they were too broad and sweeping.

Several of the others called attention to the fact that the American had announced the findings of the Federal Trade Commission in very prominent type, referring to the profiteering in shoes, and these gentlemen intimated that they did not like the prominence given the dispatch by the American.

Other prominent manufacturers were mum as clams, merely shaking their heads or shrugging their shoulders when asked if they had any comment to make.

"The statements made by the Federal Trade Commissioners are altogether too sweeping," said Mr. Jones of the Commonwealth Shoe Company, "and are unfair because they are too broad."

"I have no doubt that some dealers have profiteered. But I personally know of many, many dealers who have not; in fact I believe that the majority have not done so."

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

THIN, FRAIL FOLKS NEED PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

GEORGIA HAMILTON.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advertisement.

K. OF C. CALL FOR RECOGNITION OF IRELAND

Supreme Convention Adopts Resolution Amid Great Enthusiasm

Buffalo, Aug. 7.—Early today, after a session extending from the first part of the evening, the supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus, known as the Peace Convention, unanimously adopted a resolution calling for the full recognition of the independence of the Irish nation.

Practically every one of the 500 delegates representing the Knights of Columbus, under many different flags, cordially seconded the motion, and although the hour was late and the delegates wearied with the strenuous effort of what Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty termed the "greatest day in the history of the Knights of Columbus," the utmost enthusiasm prevailed as the resolution was adopted. The resolution reads:

"Whereas, the announced purpose of our President and of the peace conference at Versailles was to give the peoples of this world the their government, and, whereas, the Irish electorate in the general election of December, 1918, seized the first opportunity to declare by an overwhelming majority its firm allegiance to the Irish republic, whereas the elected representatives of the Irish people in national parliament assembled have in the name of the Irish nation satisfied the establishment of the Irish republic, therefore

"Be it resolved that the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus, indorsing the vote of the Senate of the United States expressing its sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for a government of its own, hereby urges the recognition of the national independence of Ireland by the nations of the world."

The closing session of the peace convention began at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the feature of which was consideration of the educational movement by the Knights against radicalism, for which it is expected that an appropriation of $50,000 will be made. The Knights also, at the suggestion of Supreme Advocate Joseph C. Pelletier, passed unanimously a resolution urging rigid investigation everywhere of the high cost of living by properly constituted authorities.

800 Are Massacred After Defeat of Russian Reds

London, Aug. 7.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Helsingfors today says the Bolshevik defeats have been followed by massacres at Petrograd, 800 persons being killed in a single day.

Russian Bolshevik troops have been defeated with heavy losses in violent fighting with the Esthonians along the railway south of Pskov, said advices from that district today.

The Red troops attacked repeatedly, but were driven off every time. The fighting continued at last reports, the Bolsheviks using armored trains.

GIRL WATCHED MURDER OF PRISONER

Copenhagen, Aug. 7.—Developments in the sensational murder of the Bolshevik agent, Ardasjeff, in a villa near Stockholm, reveals that Wanda Gysser, the seventeen-year-old daughter of General Gysser, reported to be the most beautiful girl in Sweden, was present when an anti-Bolshevist committee of thirty persons, including General Gysser, decided on the execution of Ardasjeff.

The prisoner was tied to a chair and received no food nor water for twenty-four hours. At midnight the committee arrived and held a council before him. Miss Gysser, whose love Ardasjeff had rejected, advised hanging. This was done in her presence, the girl watching intently the death struggle of the prisoner dangling from a beam.

A young Russian naval officer, son of the former Admiral [illegible], as well as General Gysser and his daughter were arrested, but later fled to Copenhagen.

AUTOISTS TO TRY FOR RECORDS AT KENBERMA

Races Against Time Added to Gala Day Card for Saturday

A feature that means another hour of automobile racing has been added to the program for Kenberma Gala Day, next Saturday, which is one of the official celebrations of the summer in honor of the returning heroes of the war.

The original plans formulated by Chairman Walter F. Gallagher, prominent resident of the Nantasket summer colony, provided for a mile over the sand at Kenberma Beach at low tide, and entries for this event came in so fast that four heats were necessary. Added to this hour of racing over the smooth sand course, Wallace Baker, whose car finished second two years ago, suggested to Chairman Gallagher that several races against time be incorporated into the speed tests.

Two years ago it was found that while all the machines were ready for the start, several owners found that they had not had time to warm up the motors so that they might get the best results. In order to have a fair fight for the contest the scheme of racing against time was adopted. This, with the hour of competitive racing will give the 10,000 spectators who will line the course, plenty of action.

One hundred and fifty cars have been entered with Frank S. Hickey, who is handling arrangements for the automobile pageant, in which the cars will be decorated. In this parade a special float has been made carrying the returned war veterans. Many of the beautiful girls of Kenberma will drive cars in this parade, in which many prizes will be given.

Tennis, baseball, swimming races and children's games are also included in the program.

The Best Way to Use Rouge

The specialist who created the wonderful La-may Face Powder has invented a new rouge. The rouge is inside the puff. All you do is to rub the puff on your face. It comes through the puff just as you need it. It goes on splendidly and stays on the face until you wash it off. The puff is in a dainty metal box. The box cannot break and the rouge will not crumble like the old-fashioned kind. This newly invented rouge is called La-may (French, Rouge L'Ame). It gives a beautiful color that looks natural under the strongest light. There are two colors—medium and dark. The fifty-cent package will last six months, yet the box is small enough to fit your purse. When you use this pure, harmless Rouge and see how much more convenient it is and how much better it stays on, you will understand why thousands of women say it is the best they have ever used. Because La-may Rouge is so new, your dealer may not have it yet, but he can easily get it. Show this notice to your dealer and if he refuses to get you a package you may order by mail from Herbert Roystone, 16 E. 18th St., New York.

SCHWAB TIRED OF LOANS TO DE BOBULA

Magnate Admits He Wished Borrower Would Jump Out of Window

New York, Aug. 7.—Charles M. Schwab, steel multimillionaire, has filed in the Supreme Court an answer to the $500,000 slander action brought against him by Titus De Bobula. De Bobula, an architect, married a niece of Mrs. Schwab. She receives $500 a month from a trust fund created by Mr. Schwab.

The plaintiff alleged the steel magnate had said De Bobula was dishonest and that "he (Schwab) would give a million dollars if De Bobula jumped out of a window." Mr. Schwab admits he spoke these words, but says he did so without malice.

He was prompted to that utterance, he says in his answer, by the following alleged transactions.

In January, 1914, Mr. De Bobula obtained a loan of $13,000 from Mr. Schwab to incorporate in New Jersey the Pressed Asbestos Products Company, of which De Bobula was vice-president and general manager. In December, 1914, the factory was moved to No. 451 West Nineteenth street, Manhattan. Then a petition in bankruptcy was filed and a receiver took charge of the business.

TALE OF CORPORATION 'LOOTING.'

William J. Willis was appointed referee in bankruptcy. He filed a report in which he held that Mrs. De Bobula was in control of the business.

Mr. Schwab says the referee found that Mr. De Bobula had "looted the corporation for his own benefit and engaged in schemes to rob the corporation, and pursuant to such schemes De Bobula caused to be transferred to dummies merchandise aggregating $14,784 without consideration." The referee ordered Mr. De Bobula to return the property and an additional sum of $9,570.

Mr. Schwab asserts Mr. de Bobula told him of this report and represented that he (De Bobula) might be imprisoned unless he made good the assets. On this representation, Mr. Schwab said, he lent $6,531 to Mr. De Bobula after his attorney had looked into the bankruptcy case and verified the statements.

In June, 1916, Mr. Schwab says, he lent Mr. De Bobula $14,000 to engage in building operations in the Bronx, on condition that the former should not ask for any more loans. Mr. De Bobula incorporated the Peerless American Products Company and engaged in building the Shakespeare Apartments in the Bronx.

CAME BACK FOR MORE.

In March, 1917, Mr. De Bobula said he needed $13,500 more. Mr. Schwab advanced the money and took a second mortgage. In the following May Mr. De Bobula said he was in financial difficulties and needed assistance. Mr. Schwab lent an additional $14,000. Despite this aid, it is said, liens and judgments were filed against the apartment houses and an action was started to foreclose the building loan mortgage.

Upon representations of M. De Bobula that the Peerless corporation owed $14,000 and that he needed $600 for office expenses and money to bid in the apartment house got from Schwab $22,345 more. Mr. Schwab took mortgages aggregating $139,000.

Subsequently, he says, Mr. and Mrs. De Bobula solicited him for another loan of $12,000, requested that he waive $3,960 interest due on his mortgages, and asked him to sell a $55,000 interest in the second mortgage at half its face value. Mr. Schwab says he made another loan to Mr. De Bobula after the latter had given his written promise "on his solemn word of honor" not to ask for more loans and not to communicate with Schwab except to pay him the interest due.

Find "Army Captain" Is Really Only a Schoolboy

Worcester, Aug. 7.—A letter signed "A Lover of Justice," caused Sergeant Gillis Green, in charge of the army recruiting station here, to apprehend Randolph V. DeFosse of No. 11 Forbes street, a student at the Charlotte Hall Military School, Maryland, who, it is alleged, has been masquerading in the uniform of a United States infantry captain.

Sergeant Green went to the Forbes street house with a detective from the police department. They found the alleged captain at home. He had two infantry cross bars on his collar and the school insignia. He also had an expert rifleman's badge and a marksman's badge. It was found, it is alleged, that he had replaced the school insignia on the shoulder with captain's bars.

The young man appeared at police headquarters, where he was questioned by Sergeant Green, Lieutenant Thomas Foley of the detective bureau and Lieutenant Hamblin, U. S. A. He was stripped of the captain's bars and ordered to appear at the recruiting station in civilian clothes.

How to Rid the Skin of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required: Mix a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

There is a Time for all Things and now is the very moment for for seaside or sports wear.

3.00 and 3.50

They are cool, dainty, and can be slipped on in the twinkling of an eye. And stylish? Why, of course!

The "RUTH"—Sketch A—lavender, you know, is very good this year. This smock of voile comes in both lavender and sand shade. (The latter is unquestionably suitable for seaside wear.) White organdie collars and cuffs, daintily embroidered in soft contrasting colors and a sash belt, lend a distinctive charm to this "wearable" smock. It laces up the front and ties with a saucy black bow. 3.00

The "DORIS"—Sketch B—In this day of frills and furbelows, of course there is a smock all frilly, too. It comes in light blue, sand color and all white, and there are sheer ruffles everywhere—around the generous white organdie collar—more than one ruffle, even; edging the turn-back cuff; the pockets; and softening the square cut neck. Its dainty frilliness will delight you. 3.50

The "CONSTANCE"—Sketch C—Trim and tailormade. Yes, that is what it is! with character and force in every line. We have it in a deep blue and white pin stripe and in rose as well. It is collarless and has the stunning square neck. A white organdie vest with a striking bit of colored embroidery, a black satin sash—and there you are. 3.50

The "DOROTHY"—Sketch D—is one of the new all white smocks of a fine quality voile, with patch pockets and belt. It has a square neck and hand embroidered so daintily that it is taken right out of the ordinary class of smocks. 3.00

No two are alike—the value of these collars would warrant your buying several; the earlier you come, the greater the choice will be—

An Unusual Offering for your YOUNG DAUGHTER—

WASH DRESSES

SAMPLES, SPECIALLY MARKED

2.95

For all purposes, sizes 6 to 14

No need to bother with needle and thread—it would scarcely be economy to attempt to duplicate these frocks, which represent a special purchase of samples of dresses intended to sell for much more than 2.95. Nor could you perhaps be so successful in catching the desired style as with the many delightful models now available for your selection.

Gingham Dresses of originality in dark plaids. They will get hard wear and they are meant to stand it.

Ginghams in lighter shades. Dainty, clean looking blue and white, or stripes of blue, tan and white. Some are doubly desirable because bloomers of the same materials go with the dress. Most of them are finished with white collars and cuffs—on some of the collars one finds just the needed touch of colored embroidery. Smocking is used to trim others of these dresses of distinction.

This dainty frock is a copy of one which sold at 6.95.

Do you wonder that she flounces along with such an air of satisfaction? A pointed collar of white organdie which crosses over in true surplice style—and ties behind in a crisp white bow, bedecks this quaint little dress of Peter Pan cloth. It comes in yellow—a bewitching corn color—in pink, too.

"You may outgrow it but you can't wear it out."

This is said over and over again about Jean—and, of course, that means it launders well, too. Box pleats, hanging from a deep yoke, make this Regulation Dress of Sturdy White Jean a favorite. Plenty of room for all sorts of play. It slips on over the head easily. Collars and cuffs are of blue, with trim little bands of white braid. You can take your choice of belts—they are of the same material or of black patent leather. At the neck, is a pert little bow of black.

GRAVEM IS BEATEN BY KUMAGAE

Newport, R. I., Aug. 7.—It was Japan against California on the Casino court.

Ichya Kumagae, the Japanese tennis star defeated Alec G. Gravem, the speedy San Francisco player, in straight sets in the third round of the invitation tournament. His victory was one of the features of the day's playing.

So far in the tournament Kumagae has not had any stiff opposition. He squelched Gravem, 6—1, 6—2, 6—1. The Nipponese wielder of the racquet has a style unlike anything seen on the courts here. He gets a terrific cut on the ball which produces a weird and bewildering shot.

William T. Tilden, who all but won the championship last year, kept up his brilliant playing by defeating William Washburn, 6—4, 4—6, 6—2, 10—6.

The star performance of the day, however, was William M. Johnston's victory over Thomas C. Bundy. Both stars are from San Francisco and have been making tennis history here.

Johnston is now playing the game that won the 1915 title for him. He is hitting the ball with all the old speed. He is as steady as a rock and his court generalship has been unexcelled here.

Maurice E. McLoughlin's long heralded comeback has failed to materialize yet. His defeat at the hands of S. Howard Voshell, the New Yorker, today, was a great surprise.

Of the survivors now left in the tournament the West has the better of the argument against the East. The West, represented by Robert Lindley Murray, the national champion, and William M. Johnston, the former national title holder, who will play in the semi-finals, look like winners. The Western pair will be opposed from the East by A. Norris Williams, 2nd, the former national title holder, and William T. Tilden, 2nd.

UNIONTOWN TO HOLD GREATEST AUTO RACE

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 7.—The program for the Autumn classic by the Uniontown Speedway on Labor Day will be the greatest speed attraction staged on the Uniontown oval since its opening three years ago and will be the second largest automobile carnival staged on American speedways this season.

With the program for 225 miles of racing and a purse of $25,000 the Autumn Classic will be second only to the famous 500-mile race at Indianapolis and speed fans from every section of the United States will be here to witness the contest of the world's greatest drivers for the big purse.

Experience on every speedway in the United States has demonstrated to race pilots that the Uniontown track is second to none when it comes to wooing the speed goddess.

The July meet produced competitive speed of 101 miles per hour, the fastest time hung up on any track this season.

Uniontown races heretofore have been limited to 100 miles with one exception when a 150-mile race was run and there is much interest among the speed pilots and fans as to whether the speed record of the track can be maintained in a race of the magnitude scheduled for the Autumn Classic.

Sunny skies will bring to Uniontown the greatest throng on Labor Day that this city at the foot of Laurel Ridge has ever witnessed.

To accommodate Pittsburgh fans, tickets will be placed on sale at three different points—announcement of the location to be made later.

Delegations will also come from Eastern cities, of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Harrisburg and reports from New York are to the effect that the forthcoming Uniontown race has aroused much interest among the speed fans at the great metropolis.

The 225-mile grind will be productive of thrills galore and there will be ample excitement to satisfy the most exacting.

COX DOUBLE WINNER AT NORTH RANDALL

Cleveland, Aug. 7.—Walter Cox drove two straight heat winners on the track at North Randall, piloting McGregor the Great to victory in the feature event, the 2:17 trot, and Mignola in the 2:07 trot. McGregor the Great was made a $100 to $30 favorite in the 2:17 trot.

Mignola was a top-heavy choice for the 2:07 trot and his first heat in 2:06½ was a sensational one, by far the fastest of the day over the muddy course. "Pop" Geers's colt, Peter June was second in the first heat.

Gold Quartz won in the 2:17 pace. Double G had won a heat in the 2:12 pace yesterday before the rain and when Tenna beat him the first heat, the judges removed Sturgeon and substituted Valentine. It did no good, Tenna winning handily with Double G well back.

SHIPPING BOARD NINE TO PLAY MEDFORD B. B. C.

The United States Shipping Board team will play the Medford B. B. C. at Medford Saturday. A band of thirty pieces will accompany the Shipping Board team. There will be a parade from Medford square to the Fulton street field and a concert from 2:30 to 3:15, when the game will start.

The battery for Medford will be "Lefty" Prior and "Jack" Gillis, Medford High School's former battery mates; for the Shipping Board, "Babe" Mullaney and H. Bond.

NIEHOFF MAY RETURN TO THE BIG LEAGUES

Bert Niehoff may not be destined to remain in the minor league for so very long. Niehoff, who is now playing with the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League, is driving the ball harder and farther than ever before. The old knee, which was the direct cause of Bert's sale by Manager McGraw of the New York Giants, seems to have mended and the Denver boy is as spry and fast as ever.

When Niehoff was sent from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific coast, he declared he would be back in the big show before the season was over, and it seems very likely now he will make good on his declaration.

HEART AND SOUL NOT WITH SOX, SAYS MAYS

Former Barrow Star Declares He Could Not Do Justice to Team

Carl Mays, in a sworn affidavit filed in the New York Supreme Court, declared he could pitch for the Red Sox with his arm, but not with his heart. The statement contained in the affidavit follows:

"When the Boston team was in Chicago I went to Pennsylvania because of trouble in my personal affairs. Manager Barrow sent me a telegram in regard to my return. I telegraphed him in effect that I could pitch with my arm, but that I could not pitch with my heart and soul, which every person has got to do if he pitches winning games.

"I then received a telegram from Mr. Frazee requesting me to meet him in New York. I did so, and explained to him at length the reason, purely personal to myself, that had necessitated my going to Pennsylvania. He was satisfied with my explanation.

"He then asked me if I desired to continue with the Boston club; that I would lose nothing by it; that my salary would be paid and that they wanted me. I stated that I did not think I could give them my best services.

"He then stated that he could assign me to any club in the league that I wanted to go to. I told him that I preferred the New York club. He then stated he would be glad to assign me to that club. He did so, writing out the assignment upon my contract and delivering it to the New York club.

"I have at no time received from the New York or the Boston club, or from any one, any notice of the termination of my contract or of my suspension under that contract. My business is that of playing baseball. I have made by living by means of it. It is my livelihood.

"I have no other business or profession. I have had no trial or hearing of any kind, or opportunity even of finding out the basis of this threatened action against me which would deprive me of my means of livelihood."

JOE EAGAN GETS CHANCE AGAINST JOE RIVERS

Boxers to Meet in 12-Round Bout at Casino A. C., Lynn, Tonight

By JACK CONWAY.

Joe Eagan, Dorchester middleweight, will receive another opportunity to win back his former place in select pugilistic circles when he opposes Joe Rivers of Gloucester in a twelve-round bout at the Casino A. C. of Lynn tonight.

It will be Eagan's first tussle since Referee Larry Conley stopped his encounter with Tommy Robson at the Armory A. A.

Spider Murphy asserts that Dorchester Joseph has been training for the past ten days and that he will toss more left hand jabs and hooks at Rivers than that worthy has stopped in many months.

Rivers is not worrying over the outcome of the mill. He believes his aggressive style of milling and punch will cause the local boy to go down for the count.

The three ten round bouts which will be held at the Commercial A. C. tomorrow night should furnish the fans with plenty of action. Harry Silva, who has been coming to the front at a lively clip, will oppose Sam Bell in one of the ten-round scraps. Silva is one of the classiest of the new flock of local welterweights. He can hit with each hand, which is more than can be said of a lot of boxers we might mention.

Silva only quit the amateurs a few months back and still has considerable to learn. Tony Palazolo, his manager, says that it will be several months before he will pit his protege against the blue-ribbon steppers. Bell made a fine showing against Billy Gustin at the Fenway A. A. Monday night, and has hopes of stopping Silva's run of victories.

Johnny Buckley, South Boston lightweight, will experience some stiff opposition when he opposes Louis Leonard of the North End. Leonard says that he is in better condition right now than he has been in since he returned from France with the 26th Division. Jack Reno avers his protege will win.

The feature bout will be between Shaver O'Brien of South Boston and Nate Siegal. These men recently engaged in a merry ten-round draw at the West End club. Many of the fans were of the opinion O'Brien had the best of the going.

Billy Bell, manager of Young Kloby, has posted $250 with the American to cover a similar amount put up by Jim McDonald, manager of Dan McCormack, to bind a match between the Y. D. champion and the East Boston lightweight, at 133 pounds, one hour before the men enter the ring. The contest will be staged at O'Sullivan Park, Lawrence, on the afternoon of August 16.

"We'll now find out what Kloby really weighs," said McDonald. "He'll have to get on the scales or there will not be any fight."

McDonald also had a few words to say in behalf of George Robinson, Cambridge middleweight. He expressed himself thusly:

"Marty Killilea has been doing a lot of talking about the difficulty Johnny Wilson is experiencing in getting bouts. Robinson will fight the Charlestown puncher at any time and guarantee to defeat him. Furthermore, we'll give Wilson better terms than he has ever had for a ring bout. It looks to me as though the next move is up to the Wilson camp."

ARMY CHOW.

IN the new parable of feeding the multitude with five fishes, the quintet of fishes are whales. Uncle Sam is going to flatten the high expense of living, which is a bigger job than ironing a giraffe's full dress collar. Uncle Sam's method of slapping the profiteers is to toss army chow at the public in habit-forming quantities.

* * *

THE prohiboozinists solved the large cost of food and drink by eliminating the booze from the tournament. We're glad that there aren't any prohifoodinists. Living is costly, but folks like to go on living just for the fun of complaining about it.

* * *

TEN years ago you could grab a meal check for two smackers that was good for twenty meals. The check was good even if the meals weren't. Ten megs a nosebag. Now, if a guy lamped a meal check he would butter it and eat it. All the saloons had free lunch counters where you could grab all you could eat and some things you couldn't. That was before they turned the lumber yards into breakfast food factories.

* * *

A HOKEY who went shopping along the stage entrances to the Beacon street mansions could pick up some swell garbage. Boats used to sail up Boston harbor with their decks stacked with food. All that is out. The profiteers have stacked the deck.

* * *

WHERE are the fat birds who used to play food golf every meal? The old game of food golf consisted of eating nine holes along your belt. When you had let out nine new links in the waist harness the game was over. Since the food profiteers busted into the works those same fat cuckoos can use a napkin ring for a belt. Where is the old-fashioned sapp who used to perch two feet away from the table and then eat himself right up to the old table? If he started two feet away these days, he would be a yard away when he quit.

* * *

WHAT'S become of the old time leaf table with the extra extensions that mother kept under the kitchen sink? When dinner time came around the old man used to dive under the sink where he felt right at home and grab the extra leaves. They don't need extension tables for the food you get now. There ain't any chow. Only use for the dinner table at dinner is for the old man to park his brogans on.

* * *

THE army chow may solve the food problem, but we know of 4,000,000 birds who have had enough of it.

* * *

THE first bunch of military biscuits is on the fire now. There are about 400 carloads:

40 carloads of baked beans.
10 carloads of army beans.
10 carloads navy beans.
20 carloads lima beans
10 carloads string beans
10 carloads canned beans
100 carloads dried beans.
50 carloads waxed beans.
100 carloads Mex hopping beans.
20 carloads Boston beans.
10 carloads bean bag beans.
20 carloads beanless beans.

* * *

YOU can pipe that there is a great variety in the army menu, the variety consisting mostly in the number of carloads.

* * *

WHEN we all get to scoffing the regular drab olive army cookies, table etiquette will change like the map of Europe. When the bugle chirps "Come and get it" the Commonwealth avenue bugs will tumble out of the inlaid marble barracks and pile into the Circassian walnut mess halls.

* * *

ONE thing about an army grub line is that there ain't any rush to get in first. Everybody gets the same kind of beans. The K. P. looks at your draft number and then stakes you to that many beans. Then he slaps some coffee on your bread knife and tells you not to spill it.

* * *

WHEN there ain't any coffee the mess sergeant gives you tea, which is better than the coffee because it doesn't make your spoon so rusty.

* * *

SLUMGULLION is also good chow. Slumgullion is the same as hash, except for the extra two-and-a-half syllables. Hash would be a much shorter and convenient name for it, but nothing is popular in the army that cuts down the paper work.

* * *

ON holidays the government will dish out rice pudding, which is the Sunday name for slumgullion. Under government food rules all cities over 50,000 in population will probably be allowed extra rations of army pastry, which is rubber hot water bags coated with chocolate.

* * *

WHEN the army starts dishing out the food to citizens, the folks want to remember that your mess gear must be spotless at all inspections. Prune seeds must be tossed into the third barrel from the left. The tin dish must shine until you can see your face in it, although after a bird has been scoffing army chow for a few months he hasn't any desire to see his face in an army dish. Something is sure to crack under the strain, and it won't be the dish.

COVELESKIE VS. PENNOCK IN SLAB DUEL

Herb Pennock, who comes pretty near being the best pitching bet on the Red Sox staff, was being groomed to take today's game with the Cleveland Indians. ... Ruth ... in reserve by Manager Barrow, Speaker chose Stanley Coveleskie to even up matters with the Red Sox for the defeat on Tuesday. The big Pole is in great form this season, and Manager Tris figured he was about due for another victory, which by the way, would not come amiss to the ... the heels of the Tigers and ... leading White Sox.

[illegible] ... fall heavily on Tris Speaker's ... He figures that he now has a double incentive to produce a winner.

Curious thing about Speaker's new position. Before he took over the managerial reins he was in the throes of a batting slump so pronounced, in fact, that it affected the well-being of the whole team. Since he has been manager Tris has picked up in his hitting.

Tris has many trusted aides to help him pilot the Indians. Joe Wood and Larry Gardner form a sort of a strategy board for Spoke, similar to the old combination of Heinie Wagner and Bill Carrigan when they were assisting Jake Stahl.

Wednesday's postponed game will be played off tomorrow, which is an open date for both teams.

FOLKS, have you seen the beautiful furniture the shops have for sale? It is inspiring, indeed, to look upon the display in any of our cities.

A very practical young woman has written me a letter. She is to become a bride very soon and is seizing this opportunity to [illegible] her [illegible] from the furniture [illegible]

Besides the hygienic reasons with which we are all familiar, in case of illness the bed which does not belong in the sick room might be temporarily moved into the living room. Moreover, should there be an opportunity in a future home for each to enjoy the privacy of a room of his very own, the single beds will again be found of advantage.

A dresser is a very desirable purchase if the room is [illegible] If the [illegible] is not so [illegible] with this amount of money [illegible] could indulge in chiffonier and [illegible] table as well. A wicker chair [illegible] to match the furniture is very attractive.

Birt's Head Wash

Nothing feels so refreshing as a shampoo with Birt's Head Wash. It cleans the scalp of all impurities and brings out the real life and luster of the hair. It removes dandruff and stops the hair from falling out.

Birt's Head Wash is a scientific preparation made of refined soap, cocoanut oil, white of eggs, glycerin and salicylic acid.

Danger Lurks In Summer Foods For Babies

EVERY mother knows the evil effects of [illegible] on cow's milk. This danger is equally great to all food unless carefully kept in a cool place away from insects.

Bad food loses its nourishing value. It causes constipation and diarrhea. These are at best always prevalent in the summer time. They depress the mind and weaken the body, and may cause more serious illness.

The first precaution is to see that the stools are regular and normal. In the case of babies and children, if less than twice a day you may suspect constipation; if more than three times a day, diarrhea. A remedy is then needed that will regulate [illegible] bowels, and [illegible] and better than [illegible] Pepsin [illegible] laxative [illegible] of mothers constantly have [illegible] house for just such purposes.

Care and Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little-ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrups was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

J. A. BRODERICK QUITS FEDERAL RESERVE WORK

New York, Aug. 7.—Joseph A. Broderick, secretary of the Federal Reserve Board, and chief examiner of Federal Reserve Banks, has severed his connection with that body in order to become a vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce in New York. Announcement of his resignation and his new appointment was made simultaneously by the board in Washington and the bank in this city.

Mr. Broderick was a member of the original committee appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to work out proposals for the technical organization of the Federal Reserve Banks. Upon the organization under the plans proposed by this committee of the Federal Reserve Banks, he was made chief examiner in August, 1914. He later succeeded H. Parker Willis as secretary of the board, at the same time continuing in charge of all examination work. In this capacity he has, at various times, examined each of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks.

German Dye Plants Ready

Dye plants in Germany are ready to resume normal production, it is stated. An expert sent by the United States government to investigate reports that dye factories in the Rhine Valley are in good condition for the production of dyes. They having been producing high explosives, poison gas and motor-car fuel for five years.

PACKING SHARES DECLINE IN BOSTON

Local Market Started Irregular and Grew Weak in Morning

Irregular at the opening and for awhile later the Boston market was weak in the second hour. The early feature was the decline of Swift & Co. It opened at 127, off 2, and almost immediately sold down to 125½. This was its morning lowest. Before noon it rallied to its opening figure. Swift International was off a point at its lowest, but partly recovered. Libby was a shade lower and International Products advanced a point. The selling of packing house shares reflected fear of a profiteering drive against provision people.

Coppers were fairly active, with the low priced ones most conspicuous. Most mines had a narrow range. The weakest were Old Dominion and Mohawk. Among those to show morning gains were Mayflower, Old Colony and Lake.

United Fruit and Stewart were off one and Gray & Davis two points in the second hour. Boston Elevated declined a point and a half. Other issues to recede a point or more were Punta Alegre, Fairbanks and Mexican Investments. Edison and New River common advanced a point. Boston & Maine receded a fraction.

LITTLE SPECULATORS SWEPT OUT OF MARKET

As is usual in a stock market crash the price ebb of Monday swept a school of small fry speculators out of the market. Men with large financial resources bought on the decline at what bulls term "bargain counter" prices. One order to buy called for merely 50,000 shares.

While some New York brokers reported a marking down of their loan accounts from 5 per cent. to 15 per cent, others find loans running about even. The big margins required of late by many houses helped when the situation was worst. In some instances margins were as high as 40 per cent.

STEEL ISSUES ACTIVE AND LOWER

Leathers Also Recede—A Few Specialties Show Gains at Noon

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were weak in New York at noon, having failed to really rally from the after the recessional movement which begun a few minutes after the opening. Prices ruled above the morning lowest by 12 o'clock, however. The market was weakest before the end of the first hour. First hour transactions totalled nearly 400,000 shares. The call rate was 5 per cent.

Among weakest issues were Hide and Leather common, Central Leather, American Sugar, Woolen common, Bosch Magneto, Crucible, Goodrich, Mexican Petroleum, Pan American, Texas Company and Wilson & Co. They had receded from one to four points. Wilson & Co. showed six points loss at its lowest.

Steels were weak and active as a group. By noon United States Steel was off 1⅛ at 105⅝. Its morning lowest was 105½.

Leathers also receded as a class. Talk of big trade profits is likely to create public prejudice when a campaign against profiteering is under way.

Declines were fractional as a rule, and the market was orderly when subjected to selling pressure. A few issues showed gains, including U. S. Rubber, Corn Products, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, Studebaker, Missouri Pacific, Missouri, Kansas & Texas, U. S. Food Products and Atlantic Gulf. They had advanced from fractions to more than four points. Atlantic Gulf showed the largest gain.

IRREGULARITY AT THE OPENING.

Irregularity featured the list as to price changes at the opening, but the majority of issues advanced. The range ruled narrow. Few buying orders came by wire overnight. The public seemed to be holding aloof. Most of the trading was by professionals. Opinion prevails that liquidation was thorough. The short interest is larger than for months. The technical position of the market has been reversed completely. It is said to be oversold. Speculators were in doubt as to whether there would be a continuation of the rally or another relapse. Lacking strong convictions on this vital point, traders were disposed to proceed with caution this morning and avoid far commitments. In fact hesitancy was pronounced in early trading.

SAY COVERING CAUSED RISE.

Bears say that covering of short contracts caused the rally of yesterday. It is maintained by the other crowd that it was due to accumulating by important financial interests, who deemed stocks cheap at the level reached.

The situation may have unique features, but there is nothing original about explanations. Strike news during the first hour was rather disconcerting, and sent prices off. In the second hour the market was still weak, but with a few strong spots. Prices then ruled a little above their first hour's lowest. Pools are understood to have resumed operations yesterday. They did little to shape prices this morning. Railroads were quiet as a class. They were hardly weak. A few low-priced ones advanced, including "Katy," "Mop," and Denver & Rio Grande preferred. Coppers were inconspicuous and lower. What strength developed after the opening was in individual stock. Steels were about the weakest group.

GROWTH IN FIVE YEARS OF RESERVE SYSTEM

The Federal Reserve system has had remarkable growth in five years. It was established in November, 1914, with a paid-in banking capital of $18,000,000 and resources aggregating about $250,000,000. At the end of June this year its paid-in capital was about $83,000,000 and its resources exceeded $5,500,000,000.

Holdings of all discounts other than war paper increased from $125,789,000 on July 27, 1917, to $251,332,000 at the end of July this year. From a small issue in 1914, circulation of Federal Reserve notes had increased to an aggregate of $2,504,437,000 at the end of July this year.

Cooper as Well as Refiner

The American Sugar Company is a cooper as well as refiner, its barrel production approximating 7,000,000 containers a year. It not only makes barrels for its own use but sells to other refiners. It grows its own material, having in the Adirondacks, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Arkansas forest lands totalling about 625 square miles and estimated to hold 500,000,000 board feet of lumber. It reforests as well as cuts.

Funds in the West

Western banks are well supplied with funds and it is stated in Chicago that country institutions in that region have supplied probably 85 to 90 per cent. of the money placed through commercial paper brokers. While Wall Street asked 6 per cent. or more, the West has offered commercial paper borrowers all accommodation desired at 5 to 5½ per cent.

Cotton Declines at Opening

New York, Aug. 7.—Underselling pressure from Wall street, the South and local interests, due to fine weather and the disturbed labor situation, the cotton market opened 2 to 21 points lower. After the start prices fell 55 points under last night's close. At the end of the first fifteen minutes, the undertone was weak with quotations at about the lowest. Buying by commission houses then rallied prices about 15 points. Opening prices were: August, 31.50; October, 32.25; December, 32.30; January, 32.12; March, 32.10.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Board of Trade opening prices were: Corn—September, 1.82 to 1.83; December, 1.51½ to 1.52; May, 1.49½ to 1.50. Oats—September, 74 to 74¼; December, 76 to 76½; May, 7.95. Lard—September, 31.80; October, 31.50.

New York Sub-Treasury Loss

New York, Aug. 7.—The sub-treasury lost $617,000 to the banks on Wednesday, reducing the cash net gain since Friday to $2,507,000.

Stock Loan Account

At its highest the outstanding stock loan account is believed in New York to have approximated $1,750,000,000. It has been reduced within a few days.

Nearly 8,000 National Banks

National banks in this country totaled 7,829 in July and the number will soon exceed 8,000, as 221 applications for charters have reached Washington.

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN AUGUST 7, 1919 BOSTON.

The Critics of Secretary of War Baker

The members of the Massachusetts Legislature and of the Democratic Club of Massachusetts who have called upon the National Committee to repudiate the record of the Wilson administration indict the administration upon a number of exceedingly appropriate counts.

They condemn the sacrifice of American lives and wealth in Russia in a private war of the President's without a declaration of war.

They condemn the President's failure to keep his promise to protect the right of self-determination by peoples, made last year at the tomb of Washington.

They condemn the betrayal by the President of China, our faithful ally, to Japan, a stronger, but not so faithful an associate, and by that betrayal destroying the affection which a long and patient diplomatic policy had created for America more for than any other nation in the hearts of 400,000,000 Chinese.

They condemned not only the failure to protect the right of self-determination by Korea, Egypt, Ireland, India and other nations, but the attempt by the President to pledge the wealth and the lives of America's youth for the protection of Great Britain in her denial of this right of self-determination.

But the count denouncing the retention of Secretary of War Baker as a notable fault of President Wilson is a flaw in the general indictment. Secretary Baker is one of the best men who has ever headed the War Department in the United States. With the probable exception of the aviation branch of the War Department he conducted the war with conspicuous ability. If we set off against the failures of the aviation department the magnificent accomplishments under the draft and training and transportation of the troops and development of the gas instrumentalities, we can say without hesitation that his record as a war executive shows a batting average which is very high compared with that of any man who had similar duties in any of the countries at war.

Mr. Baker rose in the Middle West and came into the Cabinet with a record for ability, both as a lawyer and an executive. During the war he handled his office without reference to its political effects. We knew that he had political experience and ability, and felt that his ignoring of political effects was intentional in consequence of the sterner duties of the war. He constantly offended certain private interests which always have ways and means of giving tongue to their complaints and of making the public believe that the public officials who will not sit into their little private games are incompetent. But no one who knows Mr. Baker's record would doubt his fidelity to the public interest as he sees it.

Since the armistice, however, we have noted a continuing disregard of political effects in the conduct of his department. This cannot be attributed to the sterner duties of the war, nor to political inexperience, or want of political aptitude. We are disposed to attribute it to the effects of a bureaucratic system. Mr. Baker's task was so vast that he could not have an intimate knowledge of all that went on under him, nor could he permit everything to be appealed to him for every decision over the heads of his subordinates. Otherwise, nothing worth while would have been done in his department.

The necessity of depending upon bureaucratic subordinates is liable to become a habit, and to hold over for some time after the necessity has passed. This, we think, will account for Mr. Baker's failure to appreciate the possibilities in the surplus supply of army meat, and it will account for other mistakes like the failure promptly to repudiate the system which produced the excessive and inconsistent punishments of the military tribunals for which Mr. Baker is technically responsible.

The really serious mistake in the aviation branch was yet natural under the circumstances. Mr. Baker appears to have erred there by depending too much upon an element in the community which his reactionary critics charge him with depending upon too little, namely, the ubiquitous dollar a year business patriot.

In any event if the American people want an intelligent, fearless, disinterested man at the head of the War Department, they have him in Mr. Baker. If they want a man who makes no mistakes, they will only find him among the living who never do anything or among the dead who have biographers.

ANYWAY, KEEP ON SAVING

You say that whenever you get a few dollars ahead something happens to cause you to spend them, so you have come to the conclusion that it is useless for you to try to save anything.

Have you ever thought it out that if the demand came and you were without money, the expenditure would mean you must go in debt and deny yourself in order to meet the obligations?

Is it not far better to find yourself with the ready money, and no worry about debts?

And isn't it foolish to imagine that the accumulation of a few dollars brings some sort of disaster to you?

Why so childishly superstitious?

If you are controlled by such thoughts, you won't have a dollar ahead, and as you grow older the fact of having no savings account is sure to cause you much anxiety.

If every man who has lost his savings should take your attitude, how comparatively few would have anything laid up for old age.

Brace up, old man, get rid of the bug-a-boo you are harboring, and stick to your savings, and be prepared for a good old age.

Letters to the Editor

Price of Milk

Editor Boston American:

Relying on your reputation for fairness, may I have space and prominence in your paper to reply to the letter printed recently over the signature of Bernard Morrison?

Mr. Morrison's statements are either intentionally or ignorantly untrue and, when given such publication in your paper, are so prejudicial to the reputation and welfare of a group of people upon whom Boston must rely for the most essential part of its subsistence, that justice to both producer and consumer demands a statement of the facts.

The milk producers of New England have no voice in or control over the prices at which dealers sell milk to the public. The dealers must justify their own conduct. It should, however, be known to such men as Mr. Morrison, before he makes assertions such as appear in your paper, that the farmers of New England delivered milk at the city of Boston for the following prices:

January ......9¾ cents per quart
February ....9⅝ cents per quart
March ....9½ cents per quart
April ....9¼ cents per quart
May ....8⅝ cents per quart
June ....7⅞ cents per quart
July ....8½ cents per quart

It is true that more milk is made during the Spring months than in the late Summer, Fall or early Winter. The scale of prices above will show that the farmers received a regularly decreasing price for the first six months of the present year. This decrease corresponded largely to the increased supply and is sufficient refutation, so far as the producers are concerned, of Mr. Morrison's assertion that the law of supply and demand was ineffective and the producers are "brazen profiteers." If prices to the consumer did not respond to the law of supply and demand, let Mr. Morrison look to those who controlled such prices and not couple with them producers who did reduce their prices as the supply increased.

Mr. Morrison and your readers should know that the consuming public did, in a measure, benefit in lessened prices by increased production. According to our information, the retail prices for milk during the past six months have been as follows:

January ....16½c per quart
February ......16½c per quart
March ....16½c per quart
April ....15½c per quart
May ....15½c per quart
June ....15c per quart
July ....15c per quart

Whether or not these decreases in price corresponded properly to the increase in volume or to the lessened prices from month to month which farmers received, may be determined. But it is evident that the law of supply and demand did work, and Mr. Morrison's statement that it did not is false and unfair. The only question would be, whether it worked to the proper extent. Invoke the same law of supply and demand, which Mr. Morrison asserts should operate, and prices must now rise as supply increases.

We are in possession of indisputable evidence that the producers of milk in New England have not, under the above schedule of prices, received the cost of production. The figures above given required the farmer to make the milk under the drastic regulations of the Boston Board of Health, to deliver it at the railroad station, furnish containers, and pay transportation to the city. We are prepared to show that after paying the expenses of delivery the net to the farmer has been, is now and under the proposed price of nine cents for August and September, will be less than it costs to make milk. As evidence of our good faith and desire to be fair and reasonable, we submit a letter which has been sent to the commission on the necessaries of life recently appointed by the Governor.

(This letter invites an investigation of the milk supply.)

Mr. Morrison invokes "red blooded Americans." The blood of the producers is red enough to express their wrath and contempt at an ignorant and unjustified assertion which will injure the people whose continuance in the dairy business is absolutely essential to the continuance and welfare of both country and city life.

HIS CLOTHES MAKE THE MAN SAYS SCIENCE

If you don't believe it, read the Boston Sunday Advertiser next week.

CLOTHES DO make the man!

You've often heard that said—may have remarked it yourself, but perhaps you never took the matter seriously. It has probably never occurred to you that there is deep and scientific reason back of that old adage. Science, however, has deemed the matter worth investigating, and now comes forward with the assurance that not only success, but contentment and happiness, health and perhaps even longevity, depend upon so small a matter as—clothes!

Indeed, there are no end of interesting things that may be said in behalf of clothes. There is even such a thing as "expanding one's personality" by means of dress—take it on the authority of various authorities who write interestingly upon this subject in next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

And that is only one item in an unusual array of interesting things. There is "The Secret Door," by Derek Vane, a new serial begun next Sunday. It is the sort of story you like to read—love and intrigue in fashionable society; beautiful women, exquisitely gowned, move through its pages on the arms of titled gentlemen. It is the kind of story that Elinor Glyn writes so well and Derek Vane no less masterfully. The intrigue starts with the first chapter, and the plot thickens as it moves along—you wonder whither! But, of course, it would spoil the story for you to give you more than the merest hint of how fascinating a tale it is.

Perhaps no more thrilling a REAL story was ever told than that brought back from the still wild wilds of New Zealand by Dr. Ivan Levey, a British explorer, who had to fight and flee for his life from a strange bird known by legend to the natives as the "moa," a species of the supposedly extinct pachyornis elephantopus, with the head and wingless body of a bird, the neck of a serpent, and huge feet like an elephant, but with three clawed toes! His thrilling story, with comment by noted scientists, is given next Sunday.

You will be interested, too, in "Sentimental Tommy's" own sentimental story—the story of great-hearted Sir James M. Barrie's matchless devotion to his wife, even after she had left him for another, and of the care and encouragement and help he has given a long list of now famous theatrical stars, including even Gaby Deslys, and now Mlle. Lydia Lopokhova, loveliest of Russian dancers, who is the latest Barrie protege, and who has left an unsympathetic husband to entrust her artistic welfare to the playwright Barrie.

"Week-end dresses," by Lady Duff-Gordon, the famous Lucile, are not only lovely but practical.

Newport's mysterious "Raffles" is at it again! And Newport's exclusive set is hot upon the trail of the jewel-snatcher.

How a Boston girl, scorned by society, may queen it on two continents, is another remarkably true story—the story of a twenty-years' fight for social supremacy which Mary Dows has won as the Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne.

Speaking of vacations—as is the style now—"Father" goes on one, too. And so, it happens, does the Captain.

Chinese Caligraphy

The Chinese, according to a Canton paper, recognize the extreme complexity of their written language. About twenty years ago, in the days of the Empress Dowager, a scholar and reformer named Wang Chao, who held the highest obtainable literary degree, conceived the idea of a simplified form of Chinese writing. He invented a phonetic system of symbols, which was promptly branded revolutionary and suppressed, while its "radical" author was banished. Lately, however, the idea has been reintroduced, and the government has tried a system of the same kind, but more complicated, without much success. Two missionaries of Tsangchow have fared better in an effort to revive Wang Chao's phonetic script, which is based on the fact that, although the number of characters is vast, there are only three hundred and eighteen "word-sounds" in the Chinese language.

The Prince Is Coming
Don't Speak First
No Roman Free Wheat
After Dinner Python

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

The Prince of Wales is coming. He has sailed, and soon there will be demonstrations by those that think it was a mistake, on the whole, to get rid of English royalty in 1776. Already energetic society mothers, advertising their daughters to make up for good looks, have hinted discreetly to the society reporter that the daughter may bring the two great English speaking nations closer together. Little do they know what a shiver that would give to good Queen Mary.

Frank A. Munsey, who understands royalty instinctively, as the Baltimore Oriole understands weaving, publishes in his New York Sun hints and cautions that will be of great value to us all. You must always say "sir" to the Prince, and "madam" to his mother, if you ever meet her. You must keep your hat off, and speak when you are spoken to. Answer any question, always standing up, with "sir," then stop and wait your next chance. Don't, above all things, introduce the Prince to anybody; never say, for instance, "Prince, shake hands with Mr. Smith, one of our leading hardware men." The Prince or his equerry will let you know if he wants to meet the hardware man. It is not for you to drag in your friends or relations.

One thing important—never let it out of your mind. If the Prince calls where you are visiting, get up, get your hat and get out, just say "well, I must be going," for indeed you must. It is etiquette to make yourself scarce when royalty calls.

This dates back to days when royal gentlemen went around calling, a little indiscriminately on ladies; and not always, as the French say, pour le bon motif.

When the royal gentlemen called on the lady, other men were expected to make themselves scarce. And it often paid. Many a noble family in Europe can trace its title and estates back to such a royal visit. Of course, all that is ended now, but the form persists, and if you invite the Prince to dine with you, send him in advance a list of the guests that you intend to ask. He will strike out any names that do not suit, and perhaps write in a few, and you must be pleased. For further details, write to Frank A. Munsey, New York Sun.

There is a lot more to learn, before you appear, with democratic goose flesh and trembling before the good natured young man who has accepted President Wilson's invitation to the White House. His mother and father were most polite to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, having them sleep right in the Palace, and this country will be polite to their boy who behaved himself well and bravely in the war.

The President is said to oppose the plan to cut down the price of wheat. The idea was to go on paying farmers a high price to keep them happy, at the polls and elsewhere, and sell to the public for much less than the price paid to farmers, letting government—that is to say taxpayers—carry the load. That would be half-way imitation of the free distribution of bread and grain in ancient Rome. It did not work out well there. For when people got free bread they wanted and got other things—free circus, free gladiators.

It would be embarrassing for the President to suggest to Congress that Dempsey be retained at public expense to charm the masses. He knows all about history, in fact, he wrote it, and he stops short at the almost free wheat suggestion. You cannot solve problems by giving away anything, except opportunity. History proves it.

Japan says she will give up Shantung, sometime. But when? "When will the wind be aweary of blowing? When will the stream be aweary of flowing?" At that time Japan will give up her huge slice of China and forty million Chinese.

In Germany it was a race between revolution and our flying machines, a revolution won without much competition, judging by the aviation investigation. In Asia the race will be between Chinese enlightenment and Japanese domination. Japan will keep Shantung and historians will record that it was a good thing for Western civilization.

In all but organization and aggressiveness China beats Japan. Forty million of politically enslaved Chinese, a gigantic Alsace-Lorraine problem in Asia will mean big fights in future. China may save this country the trouble of keeping Japan in bounds.

The rock python is comparatively harmless just after he has swallowed a donkey. It takes all his energies to digest it. Little Japan, with forty million Chinese swallowed, will have a good deal of digesting to do. The immediate danger to this and other countries foolish enough to allow it will be Japanese industrial competition. Japanese imitative ingenuity harnessing up forty million Chinese and seventeen million Koreans to modern machinery, would cut a figure in the world's markets if allowed.
